Collaborative watershed restoration strategy plan signed by MAT and Forest Service partners

Alamogordo, NM

On August 23rd, Mescalero Apache Tribal President accompanied with the Superintendent of BIA-Mescalero Agency, signed the Southern Sacramento Mountain Watershed and Forest Restoration Strategy at the Lincoln National Forest Headquarters.

By signing this document, partners involved support the restoration and treatment of watersheds and forests in Otero County.

It took the Strategy Plan two years to complete by several forest service partners, including some from the Mescalero Apache Tribe.

According to the Strategic Planning document, issues such as long-term drought, fires, lack of snow melt, and higher than normal temperatures have played a huge part in the watersheds and forests overall environmental health.

Hence, the critical call for collaborative efforts to treat vegetation through thinning and prescribed burning across the Southern Sacramento Mountains.

A good portion of the priority area that is imperative to the Strategic Plan is located on the reservation as well as surrounding areas like Cloudcroft, Tularosa, and Alamogordo.

The priority project area encompasses nearly 500,000 acres. The Department of Resource Management and Protection (DRMP), representatives from the Mescalero Apache Tribe, and Bureau of Indian Affairs-Mescalero Agency, along with other Forest Service partners, were participants in a small group that met bi-monthly known as the Planning Group.

The Planning Group would serve to identify key strategies and steps needed to help the Otero Working Group (OWG) move forward in the collaborative effort of restoring watersheds and treating forests in the Southern Sacramento Mountains.

Five areas were defined by the OWG plus an additional area which totaled six areas of high priority identified by the OWG with the aid of the Planning Group.

For example, an area called Two Goats-High Rolls-Maruchi area has already started the vegetation treatment with regard to watershed restoration in the southwest area of the reservation.

The series of treatments to the surrounding areas will continue over multiple years according to the high priority areas listed by the OWG. Furthermore, the western edge of the reservation, described as Tularosa Creek by the OWG, will undergo vegetation treatment following the Two Goats-High Rolls-Maruchi treatment.

With the tribe participating in the Planning Group, they assisted the Otero Working Group's (OWG) goal in bringing together stakeholders with an interest in restoring watersheds and treating forests in the Southern Sacramento Mountains to reduce the risks associated with catastrophic wildfires.

Recent News

Happy Birthday to all of our elders born this month. Here's wishing you many more years of happiness, health and love. It is a fact that staying active and socially engaged will help all of us move through our aging years. The center offers a variety of activities that compliment and reinforce healthy aging. As always we play Bingo every Friday. While Bingo is a fun game with prizes to be won, it is also a game that helps with a variety of skills that support active healthy aging. Listening, concentrating, focusing, as well as motor skills of sliding the small number covers on the bingo cards. These skills along with the social interaction of visiting with friends at the table or helping each other with their cards all play part of positive healthy aging. The program offers many regular activities which include our Monthly Program Improvement Meeting, Nutrition Education, Fitness, Town Day, and as always unless there is a calendar conflict, Casino Days on Monday. If you are 55 years young or older and are a member of the Mescalero Apache Tribe you are eligible.

Affiliates who are married to eligible tribal members are also eligible.
Our diabetic friendly lunches are served from 11:00- 12 Noon daily unless there is a half day scheduled and we are treated to a delicious brunch.

Commodity Food & 2018 Award Letters

Elderly Center

Commodity food is delivered from Roswell to the center the first Wednesday of every month. A friendly reminder that those receiving should be on the look-out for their 2018 award letters.

In addition to the award letters we ask that everyone who partakes in any service provided by the center to come into the center and complete their new intake surveys. The surveys is a simple assessment on individual daily activities, and is a yearly requirement in order for you to participate and receive services from the program.

Emergency Wood from the Program

Elderly Center

With cooler weather arriving, the center is planning to provide this service to elders on an emergency basis only. The service will be one time only per household, based on emergency need.

The amount of wood provided will be small, just enough for a couple of days or until arrangements are made to get more. We strongly encourage family members to help their elderly family members by keeping them well stocked with wood during the colder months of the year. This is the time of year when stocking up and preparing is a must.

Home Meal Delivery & Trays

Elderly Center

A friendly reminder to those receiving home meals for lunch. We are asking that you please return the trays to the center. The trays are used every day and when they are not returned, we are short on trays to take food the next day. Empty all uneaten food, rinse them and put them in a plastic bag. Please if you have them send them back with the driver who takes you your daily meal. If you are not going to be home to receive your lunch, give us a call before 8:30 in the morning to cancel. This saves us time, money and food waste. Thanks!

His Eyes is on the Sparrow by Pastor Mark

We all like to be noticed, don't we? We all like a little attention here or there, don't we? Sure, you might not want to be the center of attention or caught in the spotlight for too long, but I would think it's a safe bet that we all like to be noticed in small ways. Perhaps, for some of you it's receiving the recognition and notice from a spouse after preparing a meal and getting the kids to bed. For others, it's receiving the recognition and notice of coworkers after a job well done. Still for others, it might be the recognition and notice of friends and family on your birthday.

I remember a friend who wanted to be noticed on his birthday. He'll remain nameless, but I ran into him one day. I was walking and he stopped me to say hello. After talking with each other for a while, he said, "Hey Pastor Mark, if you're preaching next Thursday, would you wish me a happy birthday in your message?" I smiled and responded, "I don't think I'll be preaching on a Thursday - but I can still wish you a happy birthday." "Okay, thanks!" he replied. As I continued my walk, I smiled to myself and realized we all like a little attention and recognition every once in a while.

'Let not your heart be troubled' His tender words I hear; and resting on His goodness, I lose my doubt and fear. Though by the path He leadeth, but one step I may see: His eye is on the sparrow, and I know

He watches me. His eye is on the sparrow, and I know He watches me.

The hymn "His Eye is on the Sparrow" was written in 1905 and it is deeply connected with Matthew's Gospel. In Matthew 6:26, while preaching the Sermon on the Mount Jesus says, "look at the birds of the air; they neither sow nor reap nor gather into barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not of more value than they?"

In the Sermon on the Mount, Jesus is laying out the heartbeat of the Gospel; in that very heartbeat lies God's unconditional and unfathomable love for us. But maybe because of various circumstances you don't feel very loved; instead, perhaps you feel unnoticed, undervalued, and even unlovable. Whether it's because of a shameful past, a sinful present, or a disheartening future the love of God sees beyond sin and shame and identifies us as His beloved children.

At Mescalero Reformed Church, we want you to know that the God of the Universe, the very God who spoke creation into being, and the God who lives and reigns today sees value in you. He notices you. He hears your prayers. He loves you. He cherishes you. He wants to be in a relationship with you. And to my friends who wish to be noticed every once in a while, He even remembers your birthday.

Please know that you are always welcome to worship God and experience His mercy at Mescalero Reformed Church, as our arms (and our doors) are open to you if you are looking for a church home or just want to come visit.

Grace & Peace,
Pastor Mark
